

Avensia Storefront enables you to create a customer-centric shopping experience across all platforms. It is a turn-key solution that unifies your channels with the same business logic and data. It ties together Microsoft Dynamics end-to-end retail solution with Episerver's e-commerce platform. Every system across all business functions speak together in real time - sharing pricing, products and information - allowing you to focus on what you know best – your customers